

"The labor movement was the principal force that transformed misery and despair into hope and progress..The captains of industry did not lead this transformation; they resisted it until they were overcome."

- Dr. King

"The labor movement was the principal force that transformed misery and despair into hope and progress..The captains of industry did not lead this transformation; they resisted it until they were overcome."

- Dr. King

